11. Points of Pride for AACSB Exchange Collaboration Concourse

Please list a few points of pride about your school that you wish to have displayed on the Collaboration Concourse within the AACSB Exchange. These points of pride should be items you would want potential collaborative partners to know about your school. Note that entries will be displayed as they are entered.

Possible topics include: noteworthy programs or school accomplishments; faculty research; campus features or facilities; etc. Examples include (not intended to be prescriptive):

1. Multiple international accreditations (e.g., AACSB, EQUIS, etc.)
2. Undergraduate business program lauded for broad-based curricula and interactive pedagogy
3. Excellent relationship with local enterprises; internship opportunities
4. Signatory to Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME)

2016-17 Collaboration Survey

Existing Collaborations

Directions

Please use this section to report any current educational partnerships and collaborations in which your school is a participant.

Confirm Participation in a Collaboration Reported by Another School

If another school has previously reported you as a partner in a collaborative agreement, you will see it listed under "Confirm Participation." If the reported agreement is accurate, please choose "Confirm." If the reported agreement is inaccurate, please click "Deny." Please be certain of your response before marking confirm or deny as you will need to contact us if you need to make a change to your participation status for collaborations reported by other schools.

Add a New Collaboration

Click on "Add Collaboration" to view the collaboration options. After entering the name for the collaboration, select all of the schools that are involved in the collaboration. It is not necessary to enter your own school's name. If your partnership involves a school that is not in the AACSB list, you can manually enter the name of the school and country where the school is located. Please confirm that the school is not available through the current selection lists before manually entering a new school.

After selecting the schools involved in the collaboration, choose the appropriate collaboration types for this agreement. Definitions for the collaboration types are available in the instructions and definitions section of the survey. For each collaboration reported, you are required to list a contact name, email, and phone number. This can be a person or office in charge of collaborations, any individual who coordinates the collaboration, or a faculty or staff member from your school. Choose save to list this collaboration in the "Your Collaborations" table.

For more information, please also view the instructions and definitions section of this survey through the survey menu. If you have any questions, please contact datadirect@aacsb.edu.
